

Virtual Dialogues

Union for International Cancer Control, UICC

A MEMBERSHIP ORGANISATION
FIGHTING CANCER TOGETHER

UICC's Virtual Dialogues provide members with enhanced opportunities to connect, exchange knowledge, access expert insights, and share solutions on their respective and common challenges.

Overview

Starting with three different initial formats, the Virtual Dialogues are designed to facilitate spaces for members' interaction, immersion on key topics, and the exploration of broader trends. They include:

- Member Dialogues: participatory online sessions, designed for connection and peer-learning, where UICC members will be able to share individual experiences and perspectives on key themes in a facilitated setting.
- Special Focus Dialogues: deep-dive discussions addressing key questions or introducing new concepts through online panel discussions, remote expert presentations, or virtual workshops.
- Long-View Dialogues: high-profile, forward-looking, webinars where influential voices and prominent experts will take the 'long view' on some of the broader issues and challenges for the global health and cancer communities.

Facilitating discussions during the COVID-19 pandemic

While the launch of the Virtual Dialogues stems from UICC's response to the COVID-19 pandemic, reflecting the need to adapt our activities to the new circumstances and highlighting our commitment to support the membership through the emerging challenges it faces, it also brings forth UICC's ambition to stimulate discussions and facilitate connections amongst members beyond in-person interactions.

Informed by feedback from its members, the UICC Virtual Dialogues will initially address three main areas where key challenges for cancer care and control have emerged due to the current global dynamics:

- Cancer services and support
- Leadership and management
- Strengthening health systems

Alongside these, the Dialogues will also provide a channel to draw attention to longstanding cancer control issues and priorities, which must remain high on the global health agenda. For more information, click HERE.

UICC's Virtual Dialogues are kindly supported by

